The Avengers' League.

Marshal Henry yesterday received the following Warriars Rissland.

Bear for —The last attempt on our friend that can fall to recontrain missed his extralation a little My effort comes next and it can't fall My object in watting is this we don't want to hart any one, sobut the miserable assassin, and don't want to harts hair of any one else but Wr Lidelyn and others must not display so much zeal in the twitter or they will get hart. I had great difficulty in keeping my squad from shooting Lidelyn and driver last bathgade as they were pursuing the countain. Had they shot him neither Lidelyn nor the driver is bathgade as they were pursuing the countain. Had they shot him neither Lidelyn nor the driver is bathgade as they can death and have reached the jail alive. I was zeal on their part will be better for them Don't bother that drauken farmer he is not the many you want. The other man is in Ohio Your friend, The Avengers' League.

A nation exporting closer investigation discovered the fact that a so much in quantity, quality and value as the skill, till at last two young men named Malley tion intelligently till they could see how the (brothers) were arrested for the crime. A policy they sustain or allow is robbing them-York and other cities gave a great deal of land o America till a new and enlightened polspace to the affair. The Malloys are a very tey in respect of ocean commerce is adopted wealthy family of high social position, but and pursued by the American people. the young men are "fast" and dissolute. On the proliminary examination they were defended with all the skill and zeal which money star route ring has been published. It is ascould employ, but the result was that they crited to one A. M. Gilson, said to be a special were field for trial without bail. As they were agent of the department of justice. It turns being taken to jail one of them remarked that out that the report is not an authentic one, "thorq would have been no trouble about the , that no such person hs A. M. Gibson is conmatter but for the newspapers." This was need with the service, and that the alleged certainly true. Had it not been for newspaper report is repudiated by the cepariment. In its interference no inquiry would have been made. But the newspapers can well afford to boar the cals I is, however, quite as correct and valuablame of saddling crime upon those to whom blo as if it were a veritable official document it belongs. This is one case of many. The It gues right to the heart of the business, and vigilance of the newspapers is one of the surest agencies of modern justice. It is true that the newspapers sometimes get on the wrong side, or follow up a wrong scent; but their intention is clearly a just and properone, and an occasional error or even a wrong is held to be venial, when the great mass of good is considered which this impersonal vig- new y made plates. At Philadelphia and New ilance accomplishes. Were it not for the impartia, fearless and vigilant guardianship of coiver direct from Utah. Facts are presented the newspapers, the public interests would which show most undoubtedly that a confedsuffer in an incredible manner; sworn duty orate bond mill has been at work at Salt Lake would be unfulfilled on every hand, and the city, which has unloaded its "output" heavily land would be cursed with the free work of unwhipped rogues. Journalism is in possession of a very peculiar law, the sanctions of which are both severe and inexorable. That law is supply. the open discussion of crime. In this duty. The fact is daily coming nearer, and nearer journalism continually encounters opposition to the light that an immense number of perlaw require the publication of facts and often ous one, nor has it any statutory modes of pro- country. cedure through established forms. And thus it becomes a court of very high and far reaching character. The laws that govern it are the fundamental principles of civilized humanity; its jury is the sovereign people, its atforneys are the journalists who receive their fee from the people, and its judge is public opinion. No shape or character of wrong doing can escape the jurisdiction of this court; It is not hampered as the constitutional courts. seconsarily are by limitations of formal action and nice balancing of technicalities. Its prevince is far more and ite, free and general, Many a man has escaped the langs of the law, only to be gibbeted by public op nion led by caligh ened and resolute journalism. Aga n, when public officials drowse and do their work foolishly, as in the coroner's inquest on the Cramer case, the newspapers take it up; reporters are sent to the scene of the regecy; they uncarth evidence that jay unseen under the very eyes of the Dogberrys and Shallows; they incite the local and public mind to a pitch of proper indignation at the comm seion of a fearful crime; they bring about a revision of the case and the arrest of those suspected, they show proofs of plotting undred fingers of evidence and menace to those who are guilty. In matters of public A SALOON IN THE CENTER OF BUSINESS Administration the press of the country ever dental Hotel. administration the press of the country exer. cises the same vigilance. Every set of nablic malforance that has become notorious for years past has been uncarthed by the press; all the abuses with which the country has rung have been discovered by the vigilance and solivity of journalism, and the Belknaps, Babcocks, Bradys and Dorseys, who fear nothing else, and are able to tie the hands of the law-itself, cower before the court of journalism, and exclaim or feel that "but for the newspapers there would be no trouble at all." It is often objected that the course of the newspapers sends to create projudice against the secused, and therefore is full of rank injustice. But in nearly every case it is found that the criticisms are well deserved, and the prejudice excited against wrong-doers by the press soon becomes and just y becomes the settled judgment of the community. Protesta against "trial by the newspapers" are extremaly common, and much adignation is often expended in denouncing journalism for its course in this direction. But it will newsliv be found that these phiections and do. nunciations come from those whose conduct will least bear examination and the light of day. "But for the newspapers" Brady and Dorsey would be happier; but for the halter the typical rogue would have a far better opinion of the law.

COMMERCIAL GREATNESS.

The Cobden club of England replying to the shallow political economists who assert that, because the imports of that country excoed the exports in value, therefore the country is growing poorer, show that the profits of British commerce and of British investments in all parts of the world much more than com-pensate for the disparity noted. These profits Himes the Printer, 5 Washington street, are thus tabulated for an average year :

Total £126,900,900 Here is an income axceeding $600,000,000 a year, the tribute which the world pays to English capital and enterprise. The nation which controls the bulk of the world's business, is. not growing poorer. The balance of trade theory, based on custom house returns, is misleading, and in fact was long ago exploded. It Offer for sale to the trade the entire cargo of the "Annie F. Brings," from Honoiula direct, tion avetom.

But though England is now the chief com mercial nation of the world, the sceptre of commercial greatness will probably pass, in time, from her to America. Mr. Gladstone in a recent speech predicted this, though his CHRISTMAS. prophecy has not been favorably received even by his own party, who point to the fact that the carrying trade of the world is all but menopolized by British ships, and that the flac of the United States is almost a stranger to the ocean. This is true enough. Down to a period within a few years past this country indeed made a respectable showing on the ocean; but then the ocean trade was carried on chiefly in wooden ships, in the building of which. America had enormous advantages, Livermool was then as good a market for American ships as it now is for beef or cotton. But at present it would be impossible to find a purchaser in that port for a vessel of American huild. not, however, because our countrymen have lost their cunning, or that they cannot build as excellent iron ships as formerly they built wooden ones, but because they cannot build them so cheaply, or, at least, the first cost of them is dearer than that of Clyde-built steam-

Ladd, and J. P. O. Lownsdale elected secretary pro tem.

The committee composed of Mayor Thompson, Judge Rice and Rev. T. L. Ellot, who were appointed at the last meeting to consider the proposition of Mr. Lasht and the advisability of organizing a reform or industrial school, submitted a report, of Mr. Landt and the advisability of organizing a reform or industrial school, submitted a report, of which the following is a synopais:

The committee held several meetings and endeavored to secure all information possible from reports and otherwise, concerning systems of caring for neglected and victous children, and have also cashind carefully the law of 1872. After doing this they make the following recommendations:

1. That in where of the generous offer of Mr. hadd, after should be forthwith taken under the law of 1872 to incorporate such a society, and as legal juestions may arise and be breight into courts upon commitments, etc., that due care be excited in incorporating such society that all legal conditions in necessary be strictly complied with.

2. The committee and there are practically two systems in operation for the reformation of juentla offenders—a polal and a family system. The furner partials much industrial appliances as are command, with with the latter system, the restraining influences are chefry morel. 4. The committee state that if the question of a superintendent is settled, certain amendments to the law of 1872 would be necessary and he would be the proper person to suggest them; but the following are deemed expedient by the committee to be acted upon by the next legislative assembly.

That see, 5 be amended to authorize the county court to order the stated weekly sum for heard in all cases of commitment, whether in the effy or county at large, also providing that under circlain conditions, and subject to the discretion of the tensities, juvenile offenders may be received from other counties than Multinomah. That in several places the phrasing "boy" should be made to read "boy or girl" in order to make the statute uniform. That the last section may be so amended as to authorize the stated appropriation for building purposes by the county irrespective of the location of the schools.

That the committee have reviewed the articles of incorporation of 1875 and suggest that the name
